

Understanding Frisbii & Third-Party Fees

We believe in transparent, predictable pricing to help your business scale without surprises. Below is a breakdown of our platform fees and third-party transaction fees, which vary based on transaction volume, acquirer, and supported payment methods.

Frisbii Billing Fees

For customers on the Starter and Growth plans, Frisbii charges a 0.95% platform fee, also known as a 'processed billing fee' on all successfully processed invoices, including:

- Subscription invoices – Recurring payments
- On-demand invoices – One-time charges
- Customer invoices – Standard invoicing needs

Frisbii Payment Gateway transaction fee

For customers using Frisbii's Payment Gateway standalone a €0.08c per transaction fee applies to all:

- Regular eCommerce payments
- Standalone one-off payments not tied to subscriptions

If you use a combination of subscription billing and e-commerce payments on the same account, you will pay both the 0.95% and the €0.08c fee.

Why These Fees?

Frisbii's pricing supports:

- ✓ Secure & compliant transactions
- ✓ Continuous platform innovation
- ✓ Fraud prevention & risk management
- ✓ Seamless multi-payment integrations

Third-Party Payment Processing Fees

Beyond platform fees, third-party transaction fees apply based on your chosen payment methods:

- Card payments – Fees vary by Visa, Mastercard, AMEX, and card type (domestic, corporate, international).
- Alternative payment methods – PayPal, Klarna, SEPA Direct Debit, iDEAL, etc., with provider-specific rates.
- Country-specific fees – Some regions have additional processing costs for local banking and mobile payments.

Here's a breakdown of all supported payment method fees*:
